Grain Cutting IN FULL SWING OVER PRAIRIES

Clear, Dry Weather Need In North, Central Alberta

WINNIPEG, Aug. 19.—Cutting, halted by rains, is in full swing over the three prairie provinces, according to the weekly report from the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the west.

Though harvesting operations were suspended in many parts of the western wheat and grain belt by general light to heavy showers during the week, great benefit has resulted in the filling of late grains in Saskatchewan and Alberta, and adding to the much needed reserve moisture as well as in improving the soil.

Aside from the Peace River district, approximately 10 per cent of the wheat is cut with the greatest headway evident in the southern part of the wheat belt in Alberta and northern sections of Alberta would benefit by a period of clear weather.

Manitoba yields are reported in many cases higher than was expected.

Well, cadets, at last I have a definite announcement to make in connection with the Jimmy Allen Flying Contest to be held at the Airport on September 24. And, incidentally, it is a September 24 and September 1, as I told you by mistake on Wednesday. My old typewriter is always playing tricks on me and once in a while they get into the paper.

But to get back to this announcement. Beginning Saturday you will be able to get your model building sets from your nearest R. A. Service Station. Now these sets contain everything that you need to make a winning model plane. And they are the sets that must be used to make the planes which are to be entered in the contest.

Jimmy Allen has bought thousands of these sets, all the same, and because he got so many of them, the R. A. Service Stations are able to sell them for about half what they would usually sell for. The kit complete with everything you need to build the plane together with blueprints and instructions, set for just 99 cents each.

I know that 99 cents is a lot of money to most boys and girls, but you have my word for it that they are a wonderful value. And if you can't get 99 cents there is still another way in which you may qualify for one of the valuable prizes that are going to be offered. I know several boys who are going to be together. Two or three or four of them can build a plane together, and put up part of the money and bought a kit between them. Then they can fly together and build the plane, each one doing his share. In this case they should agree before the contest how they will divide any prizes that they may win.

So if the 99 cents seems too much, get hold of one or two of your best friends, and see if you can't interest them in helping you get the kit and build the plane. If you do this try to get fellows all your own age, so that you will qualify in the age classes.

And don't forget to agree before the contest how you are going to divide the prizes. Because I don't want to hear of any of you kids fighting over any prizes you happen to win.

U. S. RETREAT FROM EUROPE

ASTONISHING

LAKE COUCHING, Ont.

Aug. 19—Retreat of the United States from the European scene is the "most astonishing" shift in power relations in recent years, according to Dr. Hans Simons, exiled from Germany and now a social philosopher in New York.

"Europe wonders whether it is possible to draw the United States back into a responsible position in the European scene," he told the seventh annual conference of the Canadian Institute of Economics and Politics here yesterday. But the United States policy today is one of least resistance in terms of public opinion.

Talk of the Japanese menace to the United States is "Shower progress," Dr. Simons added. "Naval experts realize the impracticability of trans-oceanic army transportation because of the lack of conditions of real resistance would be virtually impossible."
